

ESCAPE

Hello again, for those returning guests, and plain 'hello' for the first-timers. Yeah, we had so much fun last year, and so much fun getting ready for this year, that it looks like Escapade will just keep going.

Thanks for coming! We have what we think is a fun-packed, relaxing con schedule, with plenty of time for parties, meetings, video watching, buying, touring and whatever else you can think of. If there's anything we or the hotel can do to make this con more fun for you, please let us know.

You're now comfortably ensconced in Sunny Santa Barbara, where the weatherman has forecasted RAIN ON SUNDAY. This implies that there is a minute chance for bad weather, so please, try and get your touring of the city done on Friday and Saturday. There's lots to see and do, both in and outside convention scheduling, and there are plenty of ideas on how to do it all, in the consuite or at the hotel desk. Bus and trolley schedules, snacks and sodas, menus for the local restaurants and information on area sights are all available in the consuite. Stop in and be social, and say hello to Raymond, our special sweetheart Gopher who has donated his weekend to watching tv and movies with you guys in the consuite, being in general a teddy bear and answering our beck and call.

As we're currently planning on doing this again next year, please take a moment toward the end of the con to grab a comments form and fill it out. We hope that this year will be fun, and we want next year to be better! And please, stay over for the Dead Dog Party on Sunday! Those of us who were awak through it last year really had a nice time....

Massage... Robin [REDACTED] Nicola [REDACTED] and Sean [REDACTED] have been practicing massage therapy in Santa Barbara for several years. They are all excellent, each with his/her own individual specialties and styles. Each person will work with you, to provide the "depth" you prefer and a relaxing, renewing experience.

Sign up for massage on the schedules in the Con Suite.

Programming Descriptions

Friday 2 p.m. San Miguel

Coming of age: Are our heroes men or boys? —Marion [REDACTED]

Given the opportunity to have all wishes fulfilled, why would anyone ever come out? Important Issue, how many times has it threatened the ship's existence.

Friday 3 p.m. San Miguel

Mini-Panels: a brief introduction to some neat series you might have overlooked.

Episodes will follow: check your video program for when and where .

Quantum Leap—Jane [REDACTED]

Part science fiction, part comedy. Sam and Al's adventures throughout history.

Robin of Sherwood—Jennifer [REDACTED]

Robin Hood was never so young and cute. And just how merry were those men?

Miami Vice—Nola [REDACTED]

Cops and music videos, right? Well maybe there's a little more here....

Friday 4 p.m. San Miguel

Slash Taboos—Marion [REDACTED]

What's okay, what's not? If not, why not? What's censorship? Are our standards changing? Should they?

Friday 5 p.m. @ Ming's House, 1.5 miles from hotel.

(4:45- gather at consuite to carpool)

Fanzine Library Introduction-Ming [REDACTED]

This continuation of the Zine Library started in 1977, has been reopened in Santa Barbara, CA. Orig SW, it has been expanded to include all fandoms. Ming Wathne, the librarian, will have refreshments and share with you what the library is, how it works, how editors can submit their out-of-print zines and how you can borrow them!

Friday 7:00 p.m. Con Suite

M. Fae Glasgow Reading-Nancy [REDACTED]

Reading of work in progress by the shy and retiring Glaswegian's editor.

Friday midnight

Fandom Bowling! All our heroes do it! Let's all go make fools of ourselves at the local alley. Meet in the Con Suite to carpool. Be there or be square!

Saturday 10:00 a.m. San Miguel

Everything you always wanted to know about K/S but were afraid to ask—Caro [REDACTED]

Zines, the fandom, trends in stories, a historical perspective. You name it; you got it.

Saturday 11:00 a.m. San Miguel

Alternate Universes-Joanne [REDACTED]

Are our characters really the same outside of the environment that created them? Or is it a case of "only the names remain the same"? Are some characters easier to shift to an AU? What about "hystericals"?

Programming Continued...

Saturday 1 p.m. San Miguel

More Mini—Panels

Cuckoo Waltz—Kandy [REDACTED]

Is there more to this show than a baby-faced Lewis Collins? Does there need to be?

Anime—Barbara [REDACTED]

Comic books and animation from Japan. The prettiest guys you've ever seen.

Wiseguy—Christine [REDACTED]

Great writing, sexy guys, one no-so-sexy guy with round wire glasses. What's all the fuss here? Come and find out!

Saturday 2:00 p.m. San Miguel

Fandom 101—Christine [REDACTED] & Jennifer [REDACTED]

What does every new fan need to know? Jargon, perspective, history. Come if you're a neo, or if you don't know what that means. Come if you're not and you have something you want to share.

Saturday 3:00 p.m. San Miguel

Professionals: The Conventional in Fannish Writing—Lily [REDACTED], Shoshanna [REDACTED], Kathy [REDACTED]

Who said that Doyle was a street kid? Or that Bodie grew up on the Liverpool docks? How do we know Murphy's call sign? How does Fan Canon get developed and reinforced?

Saturday 4:00 p.m. San Miguel

Lesbian Slash—Shoshanna [REDACTED] & Barbara [REDACTED]

Why does "slash" only apply to male/male relationships? There has been some interest in woman/woman stories. Why are they attractive (or not)? Do you want to see them in your zines?

Saturday 5:00 p.m. San Miguel

Wiseguy—Christine [REDACTED], Melody [REDACTED]

Sunday 12 noon San Miguel

Romance, Fantasy and Slash—Meg Garrett, Barbara Tennison, Kathy Martin

A discussions of their similarities, differences, and attractions.
